From the desk of Dr. Price

Last week I had the Student Council members fill out an LCAP survey much like the one that I sent out to the adult community. Not surprisingly, when asked what they felt most influenced student success and well-being at Cold Spring School, they ranked teacher quality, the Specialist Program, and small class size as the top three, in that order. These results are very similar to the results of the community LCAP, which only differed in order (with small class size second and specialists third). There is clear agreement in this community that our outstanding teachers, enriched programs, and class sizes that promote differentiated attention are what greatly influence student success!

Hi Parents! We have a few fun things going on these next two weeks at school in the spirit of Earth Day!

1- Our annual BOOK EXCHANGE will take place on Wed April 19th! For families new to the school, we ask the students to bring in books from home that have already been read and loved (in good condition, please), we collect the books in the classrooms (this year we collect Friday the 14th, Monday the 17th and Tuesday the 18th). On Wednesday, each class will visit the book exchange and select books to take home. We keep track of how many books each student brings, so they can take up to that many books home. We always need more books for the older grades, so families with 7th and 8th graders- raid those bookshelves. At the end of school on the 19th, students are welcome to come back and take more when the exchange is over. The remaining books go to a local non-profit.

2- WE WANT YOUR CORKS! Starting this week, please save those corks from your beverage bottles- cork is such a great recycled product, and Student Council is helping the Green Team collect these corks and donate to a good cause. We will have a bucket or bag in each classroom to throw those corks into. Last day to bring in corks will be Friday April 21st.

3- What is Earth Day without a fun, creative recycled art contest? Encourage your kids to dig through the recycling for inspiration- perhaps a robot made from cans, or jewelry made from toilet paper rolls? All students can participate, and we will be collecting the projects in room 11 on Thursday the 20th and Friday the 21st. A winner will be announced at the assembly on that Friday!

For any questions, email Katie Szopa at katie.szopa@gmail.com or ask a student council member!
